

C4 model application

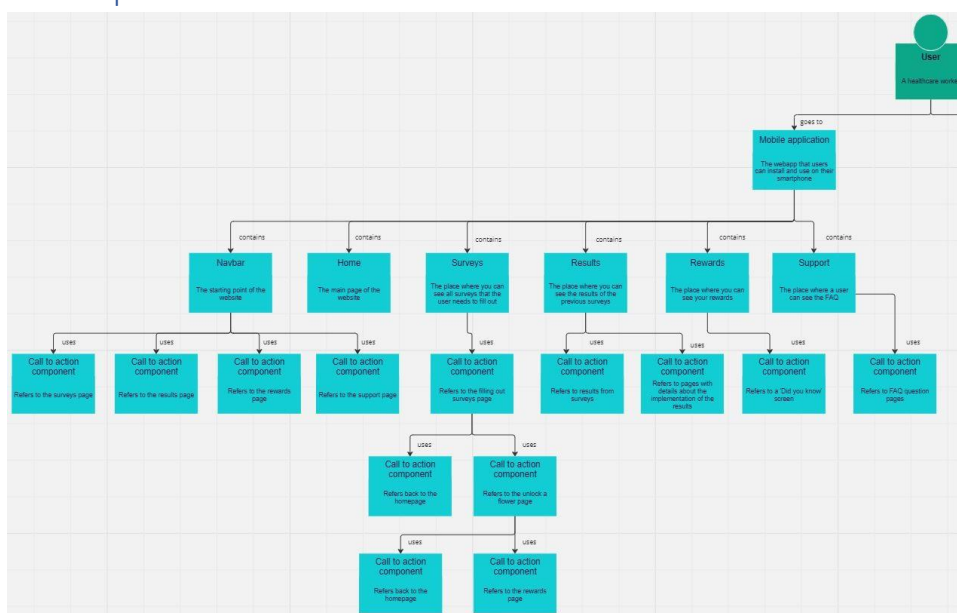

Intro

To help us with organizing the different parts and pages of our desktop and mobile application, we (Tessa & Robin) made a C4 model. This model spans both the Desktop as well as the Mobile application in different sections.

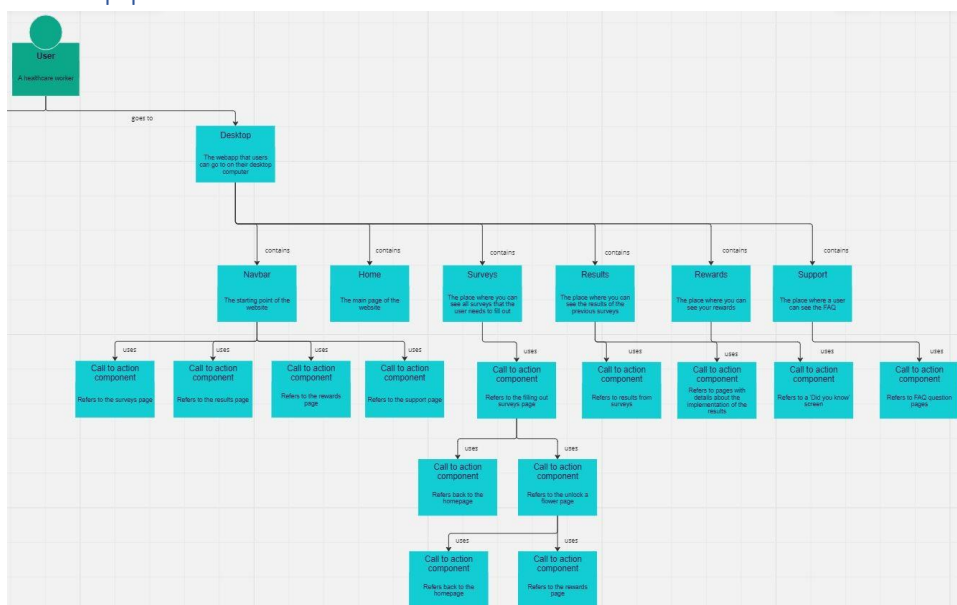

C4 Model

Below you can see the C4 model. Here you can see which pages the application has and which page refers to which page.

Conclusion

Due to making the C4 model we now have a better overview of the application and the desktop variant. This also ensures that we won't miss a page when we're coding it.
